Farmer's Market FAQ's:

What's the legal definition of a Farmers' Market?

A farm premises, a food stand owned and operated by a farmer, or an organized market authorized by the appropriate municipal or county authority under 7-21-3301 MCA.

What are the registration requirements?

A market manager is required to keep and have available all registration records for all people and organizations that serve or sell food and beverages at the market, except those that have an approved food license or Cottage Food Registration. A registration is required and must include the information included in the application. Which is why you are required to have available the approved registration at every Farmers' Market you attend.

What foods can be approved to sell at Farmers' Markets?

In general, foods sold at Farmers' Markets must be potentially non-hazardous, specifically exempt, or approved and licensed as a retail food establishment. Below is a list of food items that may be approved, please note this is not an all-inclusive list and you must be specific on what items you intend to sell on your application :

If I am handling food that is not prepackaged, what must I provide for handwashing?

For food safety purposes, a temporary hand washing station must be available and must include warm potable water, soap, disposable towels, and either a gravity fed water spigot that can continuously flow into a bucket (no push button), or a self-contained portable unit with warm potable water and a holding tank.

What other food safety considerations am I responsible for as a food and beverage vendor?

Please do not prepare or serve food if you are sick or have been diagnosed with a contagious disease. Serving or preparing food while sick can spread illness to others. You must ensure that all participants at your booth are in good health also. Bare hand contact with food that is ready to eat is not allowed. Please use single use gloves, tongs, deli tissues or other utensils.

What do I do next?

Complete the required Farmers' Market Registration Application and submit to GCCHD Environmental Health for review. If approved, please retain a copy of the registration for your records and have it available for sanitarian review at every Farmers' Market you attend. Good luck, and happy selling.
